Kentucky Voting Heavy for Governor

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (A) —Kentuckey picks its candidates for governor today after one of the nottest Democratic primaries ever to sear Bluegrass soil. General interest and faltional oitterness may lure half a miln Democrats to the pols. A much lighter turnout, possibly not more than 100,000 is expected for the quiet Republican primary. Former Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, the onetime baseball commissioner, is attempting a political comeback in the Democratic primary. Some observers rated his comeback try a tossup with Judge Bert T. Combs, choice of Gov. Lawnonce Wetherby and the states to U. S. senators — Alben W.

Total crop production promises to be the second highest on record. The production index for all crops, based on the July 1 prospects, is 104 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. That's second only to the record 106 per cent in 1948. Feed grain production will be greatly increased over last year by near-record corn and oats crops, a record barley crop and a soybean crop which has record possibilities.
